

Andrzej Roman Jasiewicz

Member of Jury for Animation and T.V. Programs
Chairman of children and youth section
Polish filmmakers Association

Poland

With a degree in Humanities, Roman worked between 1965 and 1968 as an assistant on various theatre and TV productions in Poland and Paris. Ever since 1971 and after a year in Brazil, Roman lives and works in London. He directed and participated in writing the feature film "To Rio for Love" and also directed the film "Francis Lai, the man and his music". Among his works as a director are "Winter Sports Diary", "The Circus Connection", "Stories from the Old City" and "The man with the Chopin's touch". Roman is also a member of the Society of Authors and Composers and the Film Union and Society.